PASTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Brothers & Sisters in Christ,

"Welcoming Strangers into our company leads to making Christ known". wrote Pope Francis in his reflection for this week. This is a concept that was developed in the II Vatican Council especially in the Document, "Church in the Modern world". (Gaudium et spes)

I have a steady interaction at least with one stranger during my daily stroll in the Mission Park. Now some of them have become my acquaintances and we look forward to meeting and chatting for a brief period every day.

Having known that I am a Catholic Priest, they are indeed quite comfortable to open up topics branching out from several fields of life. Sometimes they talk about politics of all sorts and other times their topics range into Economy, Sports, Culture, Media, Religion and etc.

I was wondering about widening this circle of dialogue to our own Parishioners in our church premise as the Pope recommends, "Expand the Circle of Ideas". This could happen only by our willingness to welcome people into our lives and begin to get to know them.

The Early Church was able to get rooted in the world through its 'dialogue & interaction with strangers & their willingness to welcome them into its company'. This is the mandate of the modern Church too.

One of my recent stroll friends is a Baptist Christian who is very much looking forward to our daily conversation at least for a brief moment. He is much into religious pursuits. His thoughts are about the 'dire predicament & panic created by the untimely Covid -19'. He is concerned as many of us are "when will it end?"

With all best wishes,

Fr.Gabriel
