The Holy Father's message for this year's theme for World Communications Day is "Silence and Word"- Path of Evangelization. "Amid the deluge of information and nonstop chatter in today's media, the church needs to help people find safe havens of silence. Words without reflection and silence without meaning result in confusion, coldness and a communication breakdown. If God speaks to us even in silence, we, in turn discover in silence the possibility of speaking with God and about God" he said. For the full text of the Holy Fathers message go to
